

SPECIFICATION

Please amend the second paragraph in the "Summary of the Invention" to read:

The extraction member has a ~~cross-sectional~~ surface area that is larger than that of the inner mold. This larger size causes the inner mold to adhere to the extraction member without folding or collapsing upon itself when the vacuum is applied and become stuck within the molding material.